Dear Sharon,

Several times a year my quilt guild (the Ashe County Piecemakers Quilt Guild in West Jefferson, NC) distributes instructions for a quilt block to the members. We make as many as we care to and bring them to the next meeting. The blocks are entered into a "raffle" and the makers' names are put into a basket as many times as they entered blocks. A name is selected, that lucky person gets all the blocks, and s/he is encouraged to make a community service quilt from them.

Several members saw the image of your Circle of Friends block & the free pattern on Pinterest and have asked if we could use it for a raffle block.

May I distribute your PDF to our members for this purpose? If yes, should any resulting quilt credit both you and Maureen Cracknell (her name is on the PDF)?

Thank you for your consideration,

~Kathy Carpenter

Hi Kathy,

You may use and distribute the quilt block pattern 'Circle of Friends' to your quilt group for this one time use. Please credit me for the pattern and reference my website since I am the author of the pattern.

Thank you,
Sharon
